Intimations.

THIS HAIR WASH has been prepared by us for the last 20 years. Its sale is steadily increasing in India, the Straits and Japan. It possesses all the qualities of a Hair Oil or Pomade, without their stickiness. It induces a healthy action of the scalp and nourishes the Hair. Dandruff never appears whilst it is in use. It contains nope but the best ingredients, and the greatest care is taken in the compounding. When the Hair falls off after fever or any other sickness, this Wash will surely prove of the greatest value.

DIRECTIONS.
A small portion to be poured upon the Head,
and to be rubbed into the roots of the Hair.
No Pomade required.

THE CHINA MAIL.

No. 5441.—DECEMBER 17, 1880.

DRINKS.

Charles Ring, 44, seaman, unemployed, and Henry Webb, 28, private in the 27th Regiment, were charged with being drunk on the 16th and 17th inst., respectively, and were discharged with a caution.

(Before the Hon. Ng Choy.)

A DEMENTED HAWKER.

Lo Akwan, 19, hawk, was charged by the Government Gardens on the 16th inst. The conduct of the defendant had appeared very strange, and upon being examined by the Colonial Surgeon, he was found to be insane, and a certificate granted to that effect. Defendant was ordered to be sent to the Tung Wa Hospital.

TELEGRAMS BY THE AMERICAN MAIL.

AFFAIRS IN IRELAND.

New York, Nov. 11.—A Dublin special to the Evening Telegram says: This morning the Dublin contingent at the Broad-street terminus of the Midland Railway, for the scene of the agrarian troubles in Mayo, will be joined at Mullingar by a large train from Cavan and Monaghan, and, with fifty constabulary, and at Athlone by 100 of the military. A pilot engaged goes ahead of the train, as it is suspected that the mail will be tampered with. The traffic managers of the railroad turned the ordinary passengers away by advising them not to go by the train. The chief danger feared before reaching Clare-morris is that the train will be fired upon from behind the ditches. The expedition must march from Clare-morris, where it will be joined by a still larger contingent of military from Castlebar. This march, a distance of fifteen statute miles, will be the most difficult and trying part of the journey. The train is not expected to reach Clare-morris until half past 2 o'clock. It will take some little time to collect the party, unload the wagons and take the horse carts, which they take with them. The cavalry will not be ready to start for perhaps half an hour after the ditches. It will be night when the march is completed. When the expedition reaches its destination, Loughmask House, where Mr. Boycott is besieged, it will include about 2,000 soldiers and constables.

Mullingar, Nov. 11.—The train bringing the Dublin contingent arrived here safely. Armed constabulary were stationed in couples at intervals along the route thus far, and at all the bridges. Captain Maxwell and a body of laborers joined the train at this place, also the gentlemen of the expedition who arrived here last night. A correspondent telegraphed from Ballinrobe that intense excitement prevails there. The cavalry are passing every hour on their way to Loughmask. Several thousand peasants, fully armed, are marching to Clare-morris, determined to resist the orangemen. A conflict is apprehended.

Dublin, Nov. 11.—In the Court of Queen's Bench to-day Parnell and his fellow-prisoners were allowed full particulars of the charges against them, but not any information as to what the evidence would be.

Lord Crichton, member of Parliament for County Fermanagh, speaking at a meeting of Orangemen at Newton, said Ireland could well dispense with the services of Redpath, a man who had insulted the Queen.

Cork, Nov. 12.—Wheeler, a land agent, has been shot dead near Aca, county Limerick.

London, Nov. 15.—The murder of Wheeler is supposed to have been the act of private vengeance. No arrests have been made, but the police are watching a man who was with Wheeler when he was assassinated.

At a Land League meeting on Saturday, near Walsbush, James O'Brien, an Irish-American, in the course of a speech, said: Boycotting the landlords and agents had not the effect of reforming them; people would resort to stronger measures, and try if leaden pills would suit their digestion. The first duty of every Irishman, he said, was to get a rifle, and the second duty to use it. He added that there were 8,000 stout men in America who would die happy if they could each kill a red-headed Scotchman.

Information of 100 men have been sent to Boycott's house. Preparations are being made for military occupation of Headfort four miles further off, in consequence of the threatening aspect of affairs there.

Dublin, Nov. 16.—In the case of the indicated agitators a bill of particulars has been furnished by the prosecution to the traversers. It states that the traversers have tried to terrify landlords and prevent them from legally enforcing the payment of rent by holding meetings, displaying placards and banners, and circulating reports of speeches made at the aforesaid meetings in the various papers.

It has been decided to retain a regiment of cavalry in Ireland throughout the winter.

A dispatch from Ballinrobe says that Boycott states he must quit the country when the soldiery leave, as he has received threatening letters.

Snow fell heavily there on Monday. The anti-league movement in Ulster is steadily progressing. Meetings of Orangemen are held.

London, Nov. 16.—About forty tenants of the Lough-Mask estate, under the leadership of members of the Land League, will leave Ballinrobe in a body on their way to New-street Station, to tender full rents to Lord Bandon. They send to him their agent, Captain Boycott. Lord Ed. has hitherto declined to receive rents except through Captain Boycott.

Nov. 16.—If the expedition to Lord Erne's house proves unsuccessful the tenants intend to hold meetings in the Northern counties and appeal to Northern tenants. The idea of the expedition of Lough-Mask tenants to Lord Erne's house was started by the parish priest, who is organizing the movement.

Parish will go to Paris immediately. John Bright, speaking at Birmingham yesterday, strongly condemned the land laws of Ireland, which, he said, virtually give the proprietors a monopoly of the land. Bright attributed the state of affairs in Ireland to the rejection by the House of Lords of the Compensation of Disturbances bill. With regard to the future, he said force would effect nothing. The Government would not approve of chimerical projects for the transfer of land to the tenants. Bright said he believed the remedy would be a well-considered plan of giving the tenants security in the possession of their farms and protection against the landlord. This plan would include payment by which landlords willing to sell would be able to deal with tenants willing to buy.

A dispatch from Brussels says: There is good reason to believe that 8,000 rifles were shipped recently at several Italian ports for Ireland, and that the rifles were purchased in Switzerland by Irishmen who had come from the United States. A dispatch from Ballinrobe says that the commander of the troops there has been ordered to be ready to proceed at a moment's notice by forced marches in the direction of Galway, probably on account of alleged importation of arms into disturbed districts from America by way of the great English ports. A member of the Land League has informed the correspondent that the expedition of the Lough Mask tenants to Lord Erne's residence had been abandoned, as the Executive Committee of the Land League refused to sanction it on the ground that Boycott intends to quit the district. The address of the tenants has been withdrawn.

A dispatch from Dublin says: A telegram has been received from Ballinrobe that 400 additional troops will be sent there immediately.

Dublin, Nov. 12.—The Channel fleet has arrived at Queenstown.

A meeting in Cork, called by the Mayor, has opened subscription lists for Parnell's defense.

The steward of Colonial Cooper of Dublin, of Dunboden, County Westmeath, has been shot and wounded in two places by an unknown youth.

Baltimore, Nov. 17.—There is every reason to believe that the order for the despatch of 300 soldiers to reinforce the troops at Ballinrobe has been countermanded, as the expedition to Lord Erne's residence has been abandoned. Boycott states that he will leave with his troops, but will return shortly.

London, Nov. 17.—A monster meeting of Catholics was held at Belfast yesterday, at which sympathy was expressed for members of the Land League.

Nov. 17.—The Press Association says the reports of differences in the Cabinet seem well founded. Bright and Chamberlain have pronounced absolutely against coercion in Ireland. Several Ministers favor the convocation of Parliament. Disraeli, to authorize the suspension of the Habeas Corpus Act. No decision has been taken.

Nov. 18.—The News, in a leading article, says that there is a split in the Cabinet. It says that no conclusion has been reached in regard to an early session of Parliament. Every symptom points to increasing harmony in the Cabinet.

The Times, in a leading article, repeats its statement of yesterday that there are differences in the Cabinet. It says that the arguments in favor of coercion in Ireland are weighed as strongly as ever, and that the Cabinet has certainly not decided on setting these aside. On the other hand, the objections of Bright and Chamberlain have not been surrendered. It may be assumed that the question is an open one, but every day tends to its settlement in a sense favorable to the contention of Bright and Chamberlain, who perhaps have not converted their colleagues to their views, but have prevented a decision the other way, and it will soon not be worth while to attempt to force opposite views.

MISCELLANEOUS TELEGRAMS.

Paris, November 17.—The capital of the Panama Canal Company will be 600,000 shares of 500 francs each, 10,000 shares being reserved by the statuary for the civil company of original concessions, for the concession contributed by that company. Five hundred and ninety thousand shares will be held in public subscription. The same will be paid at the subscription, 100 on arrival, and the rest as required.

The total cost is estimated at 600,000,000 francs. The sum necessary for completing the canal, over and above the capital, will be raised by the issue of obligation. Five per cent interest is to be paid on the shares during the execution of the work; of the net profit 80 per cent is allotted to shareholders by the terms of the concession.

Leicester, Nov. 17.—The train bringing the Dublin contingent arrived here safely. Armed constabulary were stationed in couples at intervals along the route thus far, and at all the bridges. Captain Maxwell and a body of laborers joined the train at this place, also the gentlemen of the expedition who arrived here last night. A correspondent telegraphed from Ballinrobe that intense excitement prevails there. The cavalry are passing every hour on their way to Loughmask. Several thousand peasants, fully armed, are marching to Clare-morris, determined to resist the orangemen. A conflict is apprehended.

Dublin, Nov. 17.—In the Court of Queen's Bench to-day Parnell and his fellow-prisoners were allowed full particulars of the charges against them, but not any information as to what the evidence would be.

Lord Crichton, member of Parliament for County Fermanagh, speaking at a meeting of Orangemen at Newton, said Ireland could well dispense with the services of Redpath, a man who had insulted the Queen.

Cork, Nov. 12.—Wheeler, a land agent, has been shot dead near Aca, county Limerick.

London, Nov. 15.—The murder of Wheeler is supposed to have been the act of private vengeance. No arrests have been made, but the police are watching a man who was with Wheeler when he was assassinated.

At a Land League meeting on Saturday, near Walsbush, James O'Brien, an Irish-American, in the course of a speech, said: Boycotting the landlords and agents had not the effect of reforming them; people would resort to stronger measures, and try if leaden pills would suit their digestion. The first duty of every Irishman, he said, was to get a rifle, and the second duty to use it. He added that there were 8,000 stout men in America who would die happy if they could each kill a red-headed Scotchman.

Information of 100 men have been sent to Boycott's house. Preparations are being made for military occupation of Headfort four miles further off, in consequence of the threatening aspect of affairs there.

Dublin, Nov. 16.—In the case of the indicated agitators a bill of particulars has been furnished by the prosecution to the traversers.

Nothing can shake the fact that the Liberal Government, and the Right, are behind him.

London, Nov. 16.—The meeting of the Land League on Saturday, at the Broad-street terminus of the Midland Railway, for the scene of the agrarian troubles in Mayo, will be joined at Mullingar by a large train from Cavan and Monaghan, and, with fifty constabulary, and at Athlone by 100 of the military. A pilot engaged goes ahead of the train, as it is suspected that the mail will be tampered with. The traffic managers of the railroad turned the ordinary passengers away by advising them not to go by the train. The chief danger feared before reaching Clare-morris is that the train will be fired upon from behind the ditches. The expedition must march from Clare-morris, where it will be joined by a still larger contingent of military from Castlebar. This march, a distance of fifteen statute miles, will be the most difficult and trying part of the journey. The train is not expected to reach Clare-morris until half past 2 o'clock. It will take some little time to collect the party, unload the wagons and take the horse carts, which they take with them. The cavalry will not be ready to start for perhaps half an hour after the ditches. It will be night when the march is completed. When the expedition reaches its destination, Loughmask House, where Mr. Boycott is besieged, it will include about 2,000 soldiers and constables.

Mullingar, Nov. 11.—The train bringing the Dublin contingent arrived here safely. Armed constabulary were stationed in couples at intervals along the route thus far, and at all the bridges. ## THE CHINA REVIEW.

THE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.

The CHINA REVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octavo pages, occasionally illustrated with Lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matter.

The subscription is fixed at $6.00 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly to advance.

The publication includes original and selected types of the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelago, and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number.

Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Portuguese, are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a résumé in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Review department.

Notes and Replies are classified, together as "Notes" (head references being given, when furnished, to previous Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which though asking for information, furnish new or unpublished details concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper and brief and as much to the point as possible.

The CHINA REVIEW for July and August, 1875, is just out. It says that forty-two essays were sent in to compete for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review. It is a sixty-paged, bi-monthly, repository of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is worth the price of the Review. Address CHINA REVIEW, HONGKONG.

Trübner's Oriental Review contains the following notice of the CHINA REVIEW:—This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been set on foot in some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, the extinction of which used to be regretted in England as well as in China. The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is regarded as a valuable addition to the literature of China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is worth the price of the Review. Address CHINA REVIEW, HONGKONG.
